O. A. LARRAZOLO

As expected and desired by all May II, 1908, and in reply you are good democrats O. A. Larrazolo was advised that a bill such as you describe permitting in-mestead entries for 120 acres was introduced in the vesterday in Roswell, to lead the gress at the last session, but said bill democracy of New Mexico to vic- did not become a law.

I enclose, as requested, virtually of the coming campaign. The of March 9, 1908, containing suggestions. nomination of Larrizola was unanimous as it should be and the speeches by E. V. Chaves, Mr. Larrizola, H. B. Fergusson, A. A. lones and others were gems of oratory. Mr. Jones, who has been chairman of the territorial executive committee for some time was the tanks of the Standard Oil position for sixteen years.

The article on the first page of this paper from the Albuquerque Iournal giving the views of a noted expert on sewer building above the necessity of securing the best taken in such matters to superintend the construction of Carlsbe put in during the coming sum-times in the summer. The other might have been required. improvements are necessary too, for street crossings must be had and there are two streets in this town that are a disgrace to the name of Carlsbad. Some people girl can use it safely. Fuel tell us the bonds will increase tax. only costs 4 or 6 cents a day. ation, but how much no one dare HEAT. Cheaper than wood at say, the amount is so small. A $3.00 a cord. We sell them. half of one per cent will pay ali in-funded when due if necessary. To a person paying $10.00 tax the bonds issue cannot increase the laws of the territory are such that a bond issue cannot be laid that is excessive. This town might be peopled by ignorant uneducated Hotentots for all an excessive bond issue is concerned for the laws protect by prohibiting the voting of bonds in excessive amounts.

The failure of the Mondell bill increasing the amount of land in a homestead from 160 to 320 acres has caused much dissappointed among many worthy people who want to make homes on the public domain, but on account of the extreme dry climate and hilly, rocky, or otherwise useless land find 160 only about one-fourth sufficient to enable a family to make a livilihood, but to double the amount now given would help some, especially in favored places along the draws where storm waters run over flats and irrigate the lands are trying to after each heavy rain. The following letter from the commissioner of the general land office explains itself.

Movement Started by a Municipal Art Society to Give Practical Suggestions of Value In Improving Towns-Sign Nuisances to Be Faught.

Here is a plan by which the residents of any town or village may learn how to improve their communities or beau tify their ugly sections:

The Municipal Art society of New York intends to spread the gospel of municipal art so far as possible among cities and towns of the whole of the United States, says the New Yor. Tribune. It will not only help to organ tre local municipal art societies wher ever possible, but whenever an invita-tion is extended to it it will give protical suggestions that will be of value in the beautification of a town or city Announcement regarding this move ment started by the society was and recently by Louis II Cornish of New York, chairman of the feeture common

FOUNDING A HERD.

Individuality the Corneratone of This Breeder's Ideas.

By C. D. BELLOWS, Missouri, before Shorthorn Breeders association.

The most powerful enemy of progress is self delusion. For those who wish to advance it is absolutely neces-sary that they be bonest with themselves. It is therefore best for us to face the truth, cruel and barsh though ft may seem, and admit that nonsense has been and is yet a factor altogether too prominent in the Shorthorn breeding operations of this country. Any one doubting this statement will only need to travel through the country and note the per cent of animals which lack individuality, type and character sufficient to distinguish them from scrubs. Some of these nondescripts and misfits are doubtless the result of carelessness and unqualified ignorance breeding. It might not be admissible to charge all the flis of the breed against the account of nonsense in breeding in fact, it is no easy task to draw the line sharply defining where sense ends and nonsense begins.

Nonsense in breeding implies wanton violation of natural law and departing from all lines of procedure suggested by the plain, unvarnished principles of plain common sense.

Things Not to Be Done.

On the list of nonsensical things not to do I would print in big letters the injunction. Never mate militais with common defects or weaknesses.

I consider it fully to buy and use a built simply because he happons to be of a certain color or breeding; of the so called straight this or straight that or anything else except a straight good

I further decur it transcrise to use a built that is not typical of the hind of cattle you sim to produce and bred from accounter of known meet. It is certainly common tripsy more aftenthou to the thirtoenth or twenty-stath great-grandmother than to the make upof the term of the first four sires.

Lastly & think it were time non-mense to red where dpur the pedigres of an expectation and market force dozen wall much Arger by one with well to a transfer of breeding that has stood

I slow's want to be understood as discommand postigrees and the careful sind, thereof but I do want to Impress upon you that it is individuality first, compled with good breeding, that
